

The Need

Over one hundred thousand Christian missionaries are working around the world bringing the Gospel to the nations. God calls us to serve the orphan and the widow (James 1:27), yet many find they are not prepared to care for those with an orphan heart. As a result, many leave the mission field because they feel they are unable to reach the hearts of those they were called to serve.

The Institute for Gospel-Transformation was founded in 2002 to better equip men and women for service among the fatherless in Uganda and around the world. This unique 5-month training brings students through the Ministry Preparation and Orphan Care course while also immersing them in the local culture.

Since its founding we have trained over 450 students representing 13 nations. We also requires all of our staff to go through the course before beginning employment. As a result, we have witnessed more effective ministry and a better staff retention rate.

"I was deeply touched by what the Word of God says about caring for the Orphans and the Widows. I thought it was a good thing, or at best a godly thing to care for the needy, but now I realize it is more than just godly; I now understand how the Heavenly Father's heart ceaselessly beats for them. I am grateful that my view of the whole thing has radically shifted – from a more general, humanitarian perspective to a specific, divine Gospel-perspective."

-Jiten from India

"This course is well worth the time and resources for anyone willing to inter the mission field. I can't think of a better place to receive missions training than from a very successful and well-established ministry that has been ministering to the Ugandan people for over 30 years.

Proposal

In Uganda, staff most often come from fatherless and/or broken backgrounds and so the course is not only especially important for their ministry, but personal development. We would like to provide 10 scholarships to begin training staff who have yet to attend I4GT and to also provide for any new incoming staff.

$347/student

$6,940 2-year goal (20scholarships).
